

Markus Majowski

der Business-Talk

PODCAST

© Photo: Chris Gonz

The podcast

You have invented something and want to talk about it!

Markus encourages his listeners to change their perspective towards medium-sized businesses and people from social services, art, culture, society, science and the skilled trades. Informative and funny.

Who is Markus Majowski?

Markus Majowski is an outstanding personality in the German entertainment industry. With an impressive career as an actor, comedian, speaker and presenter, he has won a firm place in the hearts of many people. Known for his versatile talent and his charismatic presence on stage and in front of the camera, Markus Majowski has successfully played numerous roles in film, television and theatre.

With a broad range of characters and a deep understanding of human nature, Markus Majowski has the ability to portray emotions in an authentic and moving way.

Benefits of taking part:

Taking part in this interview gives you the unique opportunity to present your views, expertise and experience to a wide audience. It opens up new ways to expand your network and strengthen your presence in your industry. Markus Majowski's profile and experience will help bring your message to a wider audience.

How it works:

To ensure the interview runs smoothly, a short preliminary conversation with Markus is required. Punctuality and thorough preparation are essential. For the best recording we recommend a quiet room with a white background and a low-noise environment.

You are free to use the recording of the interview, and we look forward to sharing it on various platforms such as Spotify, podcaster.de and YouTube to make your insights available to a wide audience.